The Sarcastic Conkling Holds Forth

Hiscock.

Senate.
Washington, Jan. 20.—Communication was referred which offers to sell to the state department the historical papers of Benjamin Franklin which that statesman left to his grand-son Win. Temple, if the government does not accept the offer that has been made in London for thirty-five thousand dollars.

House.
Washington, Jan. 20.—The House went into a committee on the Naval Appropriation Bill.

Cold Conkling.
Chicago, Jan. 20.—The Times

Washington special has a story to the effect that Frank Hiscock, of New York, who aspires to the Speakership although always anticipating the republican nomination became convinced that Conkling's aid was necessary to secure his ambition. He called on Conkling in the Senate yesterday evening and had a talk on the subject.

Conkling received him with more than his usual haughtiness, raised his form to its full height as he looked Hiscock in the face and declared after the fashion of a proud political potentate who does not like to grant favours to men who have been lacking in personal loyalty. Hiscock began by bluntly saying that he wanted Conkling's support in his canvass for the Speakership, frankly saying he did not believe he could succeed without his help as he understood the full value of the service he was asking and subscribed fully to whatever reasonable terms might be demanded for the alliance.

Said Conkling, slowly and impressively:

"Mr. Hiscock, you ask me for my support. Now, my dear sir, I ask in advance what kind of a man I am supporting? There are in this sad vale of tears two kinds of republicans.

If you belong to a certain class who are beneath any language, however contemptuous, you must not look to me. By G—, sir, if there is any one thing upon which I pride myself, it is that I am a republican, a stalwart republican if you please. There is no ink and water business here; no surviving hypocrisy of selfish cant; to all loyal republicans I am a friend; to the insipid, make-believe republicans who make endless cries of supporters to associates, I am a sworn, unshrinking enemy."

Hiscock took this lecture very well and then asked in a facetious way of Conkling would require from him to satisfy him upon a question of personal loyalty.

Conkling replied in a still more emphatic manner: "It is a subject that Washington special says there was a scene in the foreign affairs committee room to-day which for a few moments caused considerable excitement. The committee was engaged in the consideration of the famous Benjamin Weil and Loobra silver mines claims against the Mexican Government. Mr. Warden, an attorney of this city, who is counsel for Weil was making a statement which ex-Postmaster-General Creswell, representing the Mexican Government regarded as incorrect and asked for the right. Warden refused to be interfered with and proceeded when Creswell insisted on making an explanation. This Warden resented as a personal insult and retorted angrily that he would not be interrupted and said something about settling the affair elsewhere. Creswell also gave warning but the chairman rapped both gentlemen to order and informed them that any further exhibition would bring the meeting and investigation to a summary close. Creswell apologized and Mr. Warden cooling down the argument was resumed.

Accidents.

Port Jefferson, Long Island, January 20.—L. Frank Tanker, a college student and J. Samuel Sickerly, foreman of the Times office, were both seriously injured while coasting to-day.

Sickerly will likely die and Tanker is still insensible.

Quebec, January 20.—James Coyle, a farmer, while driving home at Trouton, on the Kennebec Railway yesterday fell asleep in his vehicle and the horses taking the railway track fell into a culvert where they remained until the train coming killed them both.

Chicago, January 20.—The regular Milwaukee passenger train on the St.

Paul road which left here at nine o'clock last night ran into a delayed accommodation train near Glen Oaks.

Three or four passengers were injured, Mrs. A. B. Cook, of Chicago, seriously.

Memorial to Garfield.

Columbus, O., Jan. 20.—Every republican member of the general assembly signed a memorial asking Garfield to appoint Gov. Foster to a position in his cabinet. Senator Sherman made a speech to a large gathering of friends to-day.

Gov. Foster introduced him and made an allusion to his service, talents and prominence.

The Secretary made a feeling response expressing his gratitude to the people who elected him senator after his four years of performed duties as secretary of the treasury. He said he had done his best to advance the interests of the country. He agreed with Foster as a tribute of respect to Senator Thurman, as being an able and honorable man.

The Storm in England.

London, Jan. 20.—With the partial restoration of the wires prostrated by the storm in England, instances of persons being overcome by the snow and frozen, and various trains in different districts being bound, have been received. The damage to the Dover pier by the fury of the sea will amount to £150,000. Solid masses of the concrete were scooped out by the waves and stones weighing over a ton were washed away. The pier at the south end of Thames opposite the mouth of Menway was carried away by the ice and a boat which was aiding in the rescue of the persons on

In Trouble.

New York, Jan. 20.—Logan, a bank er, was before the Central police court yesterday on a charge preferred by Alex T. Beach. Logan stated that a letter had been written and said:

"I had signed an understanding in an attachment covering the property in California belonging to a friend. This has done me great injury both in California and this city. I signed no bond. I never knew that there was a suit begun and I had never even been spoken to on the subject. I was both angered and annoyed for I did not know who was the perpetrator of the outrage. Beach came to my office on Monday, and I asked him if he had written the letter and he said yes, and I slapped his face." Logan was held in the sum of $300 to keep the peace.

Identified as a Failure.

Dublin, Jan. 20.—In the court of the Queen's Bench at the trial of Troversers Richard Adams of the defense spoke on behalf of Sullivan and Sheridan. He ridiculed the prosecution as a failure. Mr. Taw, attorney general having withdrawn the principal count of the indictment.

Suit Against Telegraph Companies.

New York, Jan. 20.—Rufus Hatch begin suit in the supreme court against the W. U., A. & P. and the

A. & N. telegraph companies to prevent the proposed consolidation. He has obtained an injunction restraining the companies from entering into any consolidation and from increasing their capital stock.

Grant Petitioning.

New York, Jan. 20.—A Washington special contains the following:

"Gen. Grant heads a petition to make

Postmaster Jones, of New York, postmaster general in Garfield's cabinet. Neither Blaine nor anybody else have been offered a cabinet position under the new administration."

Investigating.

Albany, Jan. 20.—A resolution calling for an investigation concerning the consolidation of the telegraph companies was adopted in the Assembly to-day.

A Great Fire.

Boston, Jan. 20.—It is reported that a great fire is raging in Hilton, N. H. and nearly the entire town will be destroyed.

Whittaker Court Martial.

New York, Jan. 20.—The Whitaker court martial began to-day.

Small Change.

Harrisburg, Jan. 20.—The third ballot for United States senator shows small change.

The Grant-Blaine Unpleasantness.

The Philadelphia Times contains the following account of the late dis-ference between Gen. Grant and Mr.

Blaine: After the Chicago convention, smarting somewhat under his defeat, Mr. Blaine consoled himself by saying to some friends, "Well, I have beaten that fellow Grant, anyhow."

A little cold consolation like that ought not to be complained of. I know that after Sherman failed of stant, but not a word was spoken between them. Mr. Blaine at once said to the banker: "Mr. —, I wanted to see you for a moment, but I see you are engaged, and I will call again." Then he turned and left, as cool as though he were leaving his dinner table. They have never met since, but I understand that Grant is very angry.

Masonic Lodge, No. 4, of Fredericksburg, Va., in which George Washington was initiated on November 4, 1752 on the payment of £2 3s, has determined to erect at Fredericksburg a Washington Memorial Masonic Temple. The proposal has received the approval of the Grand Lodge of Virginia.

Mr. Moody was followed to his lodgings a fortnight ago by a convict who wished to ask him whether it would be right, now that he had professed to be a Christian, to pay his whisky bills. The evangelist told him to pay all his debts, no matter how bad they might be, and then to make a new start.

The absurdity of the rumor that the Norwegian poet, Bjornstjerne Bjornson, now visiting this country, is engaged to be married to the widow of Ole Bull, becomes apparent when it is stated that there is a Mrs. Bjornson, he being a married man.
